ZEPPELIN ZR-3 ARRIVES TODAY

Completes An 80-Hour Journey From Germany By Landing At Lakehurst Naval Air Station At 9:30 O'Clock This Morning

LOUD CHEERS GREET HER

Crowd Held Back By Rope Stretched Along the Landing Field Gives the Dirigible A Tremendous Ovation—Officers And Men Welcomed

Lakehurst, New Jersey, Oct. 15—Completing an 80-hour journey from Germany the Zeppelin ZR-3 arrived at Lakehurst naval air station at 9:30 a. m. today.

It came slowly out of a brilliant sunshine and cloudless blue over the eastern horizon and began to descend toward the air dome here which was all in readiness to receive the dirigible.

As she came down the ZR-3 wireless crackled out a triumphant message.

"Arrived at Lakehurst 9:30 a. m."

Less than four days ago the Zeppelin had cast off the landing rope at the mother nest of its brood in Germany.

At 9:50 a. m., precisely a member of the ground crew at the naval station leaped and caught the free end of the descending Zeppelin's landing rope. This marked the actual landing of the ZR-3 according to the undertaking in airship circles. Other members of the ground crew caught other ropes and the Zeppelin motors were stilled.

Meanwhile the airship and her crew were greeted by constant cheers from a crowd held back by rope stretched along the landing field. Officers and men of the air station waved to those aboard whose heads and arms were stretched from the windows of the dongola.

Lakehurst, N. J., October 15.—Out of the early haze and into the blazing sunshine of a perfect Indian summer morn the ZR-3 flew low over New York harbor today, close to the finish of her epoch-making flight from Fredrichshafen.

Greeted by shrieking whistles from harbor craft as it swung over the Statue of Liberty and headed up the Hudson river over New York City, the giant Zeppelin was a brilliant silver phantom in the cloudless sky, then a reality as she passed overhead above the city throngs who craned their necks and cheered her arrival.

At 8 a. m., just 79 hours and 23 minutes after she rose from her hangar at Frederickshafen, the giant dirigible was cruising over New York, demonstrating that even at the finish of an epoch-making journey she had plenty of reserve power.

The ZR-3 first crossed over American soil at 4 20 a. m., when her commander, Dr. Eckener, who brought her safely through the winds and perils of the Atlantic, steered the Zeppelin over Boston. This was 75 hours and 47 minutes after her departure.

Bringing her 32 officers and men safely to these shores, the world's largest dirigible scorned to hurry to the waiting hangar here where landing crews and U. S. navy officials awaited her arrival since dawn.

Germany's pride in her Zeppelins was reflected in Dr. Eckener's maneuvering of this latest and greatest of the Frederickshafen brood.

He sent his craft low above New York's millions to demonstrate her air-worthiness.

The city sent up cheers that died on the air long before reaching the speeding airship.

No untoward incident marked the close of the flight. Passing Boston at 4 30 a. m., the Zeppelin came steadily on towards her goal.

Weather conditions were perfect.

She was over Providence at 4:50 a. m. Ten minutes later she flew low over Newport. Fifty minutes later New London, Conn., reported her silver shape directly overhead.

By 7 a. m., the ZR-3 had reached Mitchell Field, Long Island.

Escorting planes flew into the early morning haze to greet and escort the Zeppelin, but missed her and the ZR-3 came on majestically alone.

A United Press reporter flew in one of these planes which came scurrying back to pick up the dirigible and act as an escort of honor during the brief moments while she was passing over the Long Island 'drome.

Pranks Start; Boys Arrested And Lectured

Eight boys were arrested and arraigned before Burgess Tussing last night. They were accused of throwing stones on the porches of residents and committing other pre-Halloween pranks. A number of the lads are the sons of highly respected people, whose exuberance in the forthcoming visitation of spooks and hobgoblins overcame their judgment. They were all discharged after being given a lecture by the burgess, salutary in its influence, and cautioned the lads that Halloween time, while fraught with many pleasantries still does mean keeping within the bounds of reason; and that destruction of property or damage to property interests could not, and would not be tolerated.

Chief of Police James A. Murphy desires the Mail to call the attention of the bad practice on part of boys "hopping" trucks enroute to school, and otherwise. It is unsafe, and it is against the law thus to surreptitiously steal rides, as under the law, the driver of the machine or owner, is responsible in case of injury. The police are watching the boys in this regard, and they will be arrested when caught transgressing.

Donora Youths Held Without Bail In Alleged Enticing Case

Last night at a hearing before Alderman R. L. Ellwood, Emanuel Puente, and John Bubin, both aged 21 of Donora, were held for court without bail, after testimony had been adduced which showed that they took Marian Sidway, 15 years old, of Connellsville, to Donora on last Saturday, following the Donora-Connellsville football game.

As a result of testimony given at the hearing, Samuel Villille, a barber of Donora, was held as an accessory before and after the fact. He was released under bail.

A fourth young man is being sought by the officers in connection with the case. The girl testified that she thought the young men were taking her home when she first started on the trip with them. Puenta is held on a charge of assault and battery and also for statutory offense. Bubin was held on the statutory charge.

SENIOR B CLASS TO ENTERTAIN FRESHMEN B CLASS

It has been the custom in the Charleroi High School as well as others of the vicinity, for the older classes to greet the young Freshmen enrolled into their midst with a great deal of amusement and more or less disdain. This has been met with embarrassment and discomfiture on the part of the young student.

However, it is hoped that henceforth this practice will be done away with and the Freshman will be made to feel at ease in his new surroundings. Miss Frances Estelle Carroll, a member of the Senior B class, has originated a pleasing plan that meets with approval and will be carried out this evening.

Tonight in the school gymnasium, the Senior B class will accord the Freshmen B class a reception in the form of a "Bingville." The gym is beautifully decorated for the occasion in accordance with the Hallowe'en season and the Mar Ritz Pennsylvanians of Monessen have been secured to furnish the music. The entire student body of the High school have been invited to be present and the affair promises to lead the season's social vents of the school. Refreshments will be served.

BIDS ARE OPENED FOR A HIGHWAY

For Improvement of 2,200 Feet Township Road Between Hickory And Burgettstown, Last Important Link in Section

WORK STARTED VERY SOON

Expected That Highway Will Be Completed Before Winter—Connects the State Road Through Hickory With State Highway to Burgettstown

Yesterday the county commissioners opened bids for the improvement of 2,200 feet of township road between Hickory and Burgettstown, the last unimproved link in the Washington section. The commissioners were assisted by W. A. Warren of Harrisburg, in charge of township roads for the State Highway department. The section will be of reinforced concrete. The contract was given to Hardy & Rankin of Canonsburg, at their bid of $25.000. The only other bidder was Samuel Gamble of Carnegie at $29,000.

Work will be started on this section as soon as the contract can be signed, and it is expected that it will be completed before winter. This is a section of old brick road laid by the township. It connects the state road through Hickory with the state highway of Burgettstown. The old state route connecting these two roads has been abondoned for several years, but the state refused to improve this one for the reason that it was not on the regular route. It has been in bad condition for a number of years, and is now almost impassable.

In order to hold it up any longer, the county agreed to pay half if Mt. Pleasant would pay the other half, as the state does not seem disposed to take the matter up.

The contract for the improvement of 2,300 feet of county road from California to the state road leading to the National pike west of Brownsville, was also signed this morning. This will give improved road through from California to the pike. The contract dwas awarded several days ago to Petriello Brothers of South Brownsville, at their bid of $42,997 80. Work will be begun at one.

Monessen Making Every Effort To Set Charleroi Back On Saturday--Have Two Extra Coaches--Working Overtime

That Monessen High school is putting forth every effort to end Charleroi High school's sensational record this coming Saturday is evidenced by the report that their coaching staff has been increased by the addition of two former college stars. The word coming from across the river is that Charleroi is going to have a full afternoon's work cut out for them.

Spirit, that element that wins many a game, will be the headliner on Saturday. Monessen Hi is known for their fighting qualities and they have heretofore won from many teams on account of it. Coach Shields and his first string squad were the guests of the management at the Rochester game on Saturday so Charleroi will have to watch their step. We have been heavily scouted while the Charleroi coaches know little or nothing about Monessen's style of play.

In all probability the game will be called at 3 p. m. No word has been received from Monessen regarding the time of kick-off. In 1922 the game was started at that time.

Officials for the game are as follows:

Referee—Story.
Umpire—Mates.
Linesman—Korb.

There will be no reduction in the admission for Charleroi High School students. The general admission for all will be 50 cents.

THE COAST CHAMPS ACCEPT A SERIES WITH ST. PAUL

President Hickey, of the American association, said yesterday that a post-series between St. Paul, conqueror of Baltimore in the International League American Association series, with pennant winner of the Pacific Coast League, had been arranged.

The challenge, President Hickey said, had been accepted by President Harry A. Williams of the Pacific Coast League.

This series will decide the class AA championship of the Nation.

Four clubs are closely bunched in the scramble for the Pacific Coast league flag, with the winner in doubt. The St. Paul players, President Hickey said are keeping themselves in condition.

NEW RECORD FOR DEMARCO TO SHOOT AT

A new record for Cuddy DeMarco and other left-jab specialists in the Pittsburgh district and elsewhere to shoot at in their future bouts was rung up in New York Saturday night, according to stories from Gotham, by Roger Flowers, Atlanta negro middleweight, who is said to have one of the fastest jabs of any boxer in the game. He delivers with a peculiar left backhand delivery that is as unorthodox as the rest of his style. However, there is not enough of a backhand motion to the blow to make it illegal. In his bout with Jamaica Kid Saturday night Flowers landed his left 19 times in the eighth round without a return. Eddie Munson, the timekeeper, kept tab and vouches for the truth of this statement.

EMIL YDE IS NOT SURPRISED AT THE BASEBALL SCANDAL

Banishing two members of the New York ball club in the National League by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, for "approaching" a player on a rival team, does not appear to have occasioned a great deal of surprise among the men who wear uniforms—at least one young star in the majors having admitted he was not startled by the announcement that a pair of Giants had been thrown out of organized baseball on the eve of the world series.

The athlete who did not fall out of his chair when he was informed of the recent scandal was Emil Yde, sensational southpaw of the Pirates, who is at his home in Freeport, Ill. According to Yde, something still more sensational may be sprung shortly, the opinion of a number of players being that eventually a change will be made in the management of the Giants.

W. H. Ruddell, of Homestead, an ardent rooter for the Pirates, received a clipping from a Rockford newspaper mailed by one of his friends in the Illinois town. The article furnishes an interview with a Rockford man who repeats some interesting features of a conversation he says he had with Yde shortly after the series opened between the New York Nationals and the Washington Americans. The last set of engagements in which the Pirates were swept down at the Polo Grounds, also is referred to.

Yde is quoted as saying it is the general opinion among the other National league teams that the baseball world will be rocked to its very foundations by the explosions which may be touched off and that the "Master Mind" is expected to "get the gate." The item also states that the belief prevails among the athletes of the National circuit that Heinie Sand was not the only Philadelphia player to be "approached" and that the "bribers" may have been more successful with them. The long string of consecutive losses to New York by the Phillies is pointed to with suspicion in the article.

KING READY FOR WARD AND OTHER WELTERS IN DISTRICT

In a letter from Fayette City, Tom Padano, manager of Johnny King, writes

"Since Johnny Ward has started he defeated Johnny King and will give King a hiding in another race to meet him at any time or place. Will Hugh Shannon, Ward's manager, posted a forfeit of $250 that Ward will do 147 pounds at 3 o'clock. The only thing that saved Ward when he met King in Connellsville was the fact that King was then merely a beginner, having had only seven fights when he fought Ward in a main bout. The second time they fought in McKeesport Ward had a weight advantage. Bring on Ward if he can make 147 pounds at 3:30 o'clock. The reason why King could not stop Bert Schneider last Thursday at McKeesport was that he did not have much time to train, as it was a substitute bout. King is anxious to meet any welterweight for the district championship, so bring them on."

A Word to the Wise

"In March I was called to the bedside of my sister in Brewton, Alabama. She was given up to die and was almost dead. Talked in a whisper. Doctors said nothing but an operation would save her and she was too weak for that. Her color was yellow as a pumpkin and she was filled with gas. That day I heard of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and went and got a bottle for her. In three weeks she was able to be about and walked a mile to church. I am praising your medicine to everyone." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

Twenty minutes after seven the ZR-3 was over the outskirts of New York.

At first Dr. Eckener steered straight for Lakehurst, and it was believed he was bringing her directly to the naval station here, where great activity took place.

But the Zeppelin's pilot turned north after passing Fire Island and began manueuvering over the harbor.

Vessels tooted and whistled and the early morning sun glinted on the Statue of Liberty as the dirigible dipped a pennant in salute while passing overhead.

Sea gulls, no more graceful than the silver shape above, emitted raucous cries as they dipped and wheeled and some mounted high to shriek at this strange visitor from the skies.

Harbor shipping was threatened with a vast tangle as everyone peered upward for a look at the ZR-3.

The dirigible headed straight north up the Hudson river. It passed above the Woolworth tower, reaching its gilded spires mainly [illegible] sunlight, at 8 a. m., and kept on its course.

A few minutes later it was high over the Palisades.

Turning again to the South, the ZR-3 came back over the city. As though it was merely on a practice jaunt, it swung low over downtown buildings.

At 8:16, its motors roaring in perfect unison, it passed, on an even keel, over the United Press offices in the World building.

The Zeppelin was flying low, lower even than the city ordinances permit.

The sunlight shone on its barreled sides, its markings stood out plainly, diminutive figures could be seen waving from the windows of the large forward gondola.

Answering the man at the helm, the smiling German whose pride in his craft was great, the airship turned gracefully above the Battery and headed west. It appeared about to take another turn up the Hudson.

It was hard for those watching its deliberate and easy manueuvers to realize that this enormous, slender ship of the skies had just come from Germany, more than three days and three nights on a voyage fraught with peril, second of her kind ever to cross the Atlantic.

The storms of the ocean were passed and the fogs of the Banks safely outwitted, and Dr. Eckener was seizing the opportunity to make the most of his flight as propaganda for Zeppelins.

His purpose in flying over New York City, so low and so long, was to demonstrate the future of the dirigible type, and possibly persuade the Allies and the United States to let him continue building monster lighter-than-air craft.

It was hard, too to realize that this Zeppelin was one of the few things that the United States got out of the World war. When the ZR-3 is passed by our naval experts, she will be accepted as one of the spoils of war, and Dr. Eckener and the German crew will go back to Germany on steamships.

TELL THE CHAMBER.

Is the Chamber of Commerce of Charleroi functioning? To hear some people talk it is not; but they do not attend the directors' meetings of the body, selected from the membership corporate as the best business men in the Chamber, so how can they speak intelligently of just what the Chamber is doing. The Chamber of Commerce may have a number of things "up its sleeve" even now that will be disclosed in due time.

The thing for the citizen to do, is [illegible] Commerce, its members, individually or collectively, in line of criticism; but if the citizen knows of anything that will promote the interests of the borough, the citizenry as a whole, it is for him to tell the member of the Chamber, either one of its body collective, or one of its recognized officials.

The Chamber of Commerce in Charleroi is represented by many of the leading men of the town. It was organized to promote the best interests of the borough citizenry, business and private. It was not organized for any selfish interest; none of the members are "getting anything out of it," only by "raking their brains" to see what can be done to promote the interests of the borough from every conceivable standpoint. They have used their influence, and given of their time and money for better roads — highways leading into the borough that conduce to business as well as private interests. A portion of the membership is also behind the movement for a "Greater Charleroi," realizing the dearth of, and need of more houses; and for this reason, and not because they expect to make a "barrel of money out of it," was the deal for the realty closed between here and Speers, and which, in the near future, doubtless will be dotted with homes of the workingmen, thankful that the days of residence congestion are over.

The Chamber of Commerce; well, it is a pretty respectable body of men, who would be pleased to receive your advice and your aid for borough weal; but if you can't offer anything for the good of the town to them, it would serve public welfare better to leave unsaid things of a derogatory nature.

Why are you lugging home that expensive box of candy?

Just playing safe—my wife kissed me this morning so I think it must be her birthday or our wedding anniversary.

It seems quite natural that tea hounds should be much interested in fox trots.

Is There a Doctor Present?
I only kissed her on the cheek,
It seemed a simple frolic;
But I was sick in bed a week—
They called it "painters' colic."

A Chicago professor says this year will pass into history without any summer. What have we had, then—winter? And what will winter be like.

Opportunity doesn't always knock at the door these days. It sometimes smiles from the sidewalk.

Disabled Veterans Master Crafts Requiring Skill and Science

Although handicapped by the loss of limbs or by other injuries suffered in the war, thousands of former service men have been rehabilitated and completed courses in vocational training through the Veterans' Bureau. Special instruction and in many cases, the use of cleverly adjusted artificial limbs and other appliances have enabled hundreds of crippled men to surmount tremendous obstacles in their fight to overcome the ravages of war.

[illegible] crafts requiring considerable skill and science, overcoming the loss of limbs by the use of special apparatus and by expert training. Of the approximately 70,000 men still being taught, from 1,000 to 6,000 are enlisted in each of the following occupations: accountancy, agriculture, bookkeeping, engineering, dentistry, drafting, electricity, jewelry, machinery, salesmanship, tailoring and law.

The bureau received in all 673,686 applications for vocational training of which 330,658 were accepted as eligible for the service. More than 150,000 men are receiving compensation from $80 to $170 monthly in addition to the schooling they are given.

Ocean Mystery Is Seen in Island Covered with Cabbages

Midway between Africa and Australia and about 1,500 miles from the antarctic circle, Kerguelen island or Desolation Land, as it is called, presents one of the most perplexing mysteries of the Indian ocean. It is covered with strange vegetation unlike that found in any other part of the world. There are also millions of cabbages which bear large heads of leaves eighteen to twenty inches across.

Barrel for Feeding Slops

Feeding slops, which are mixed together in a barrel, is quite a tedious task, as the stuff has to be dipped out of the barrel and fed to the hogs by the bucketful. A much easier method of emptying the barrel is shown in the drawing. The barrel is pivoted between two posts, securely set into the ground. This is done by bolting or screwing around the barrel a heavy iron band, in which two short sections of shafting are mounted to serve as pivots. A metal spout is nailed to the edge of the barrel at the mouth to facilitate pouring the slop. A wooden chute, slanting toward the feed trough, is extended from the barrel, and the slop is poured into this.

Windshield for Rear Auto Seat

Windshields used on rear seats of automobiles are usually constructed of thick plate glass and require a substantial metal frame to hold them in position. This heavy construction can be avoided by making the shield of celluloid and metal rod as shown in the drawing. It is easy to adjust and there will be no danger of being cut by broken glass, should an accident occur.

The framework is made of ¼-in. brass [illegible] for the simple mechanism. Iron rod can also be used provided it is painted to prevent rust. Four pieces of 1/32-in. celluloid are cut to fit inside of the frame. These are sewed or glued to strips of heavy rubberized or leatherized fabric, which is folded over the frame and fastened by means of snaps.

A good adhesive for gluing celluloid to cloth or leather is made by mixing 2 parts of shellac, 3 parts of spirits of camphor and 4 parts of alcohol. The fittings permanently attached to the inside of the body to hold the windshield, are made of 1/16-in. sheet brass. The frame and the shield itself are readily removable.

Value of Forests

The Department of Agriculture says that removal of forests destroys the ground cover of leaf-mold, which once absorbed rain and snow waters, holding and distributing them to the soil. Cleared of forest and its spongy ground cover, the bared soil absorbs comparatively little water, most of which runs off rapidly, swelling streams and flooding and eroding the lower ground.

Coal Has Bright Flame

Cannel coal burns with a bright, candle-like flame, and it is probable that the name is a corruption of candle-coal. This coal is found in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana, and some believe that it is a product of an accumulation of animal as well as plant remains. The same kind of coal is found in Scotland, where it is called parrot coal.

Term of Opprobrium

The phrase "Dutch courage" means artificial courage, or boldness inspired by intoxicating spirits. There are no sturdier fighters than the Dutch, as history shows. "Dutch courage," however, is an expression which is used in opprobrium or derision. It arose from the enmity which existed between the English and the Dutch during the Seventeenth century.

"MARRIAGE CHEAT" COMING TO MAJESTIC

"The Marriage Cheat," a vivid drama of emotions to which the ocean contributes many thrilling moments, for its setting is on the romantic island of Hiti Huti in the South Seas.

Spending every possible hour of his spar time at sea aboard his yaht, "Edris," Mr. Ince is particularly fitted to make the most of the sea sequences that chance to enter into his productions. And in the production of "The Marriage Cheat," under the direction of John Griffith Wray, no effort was spared to make the various sea "shots" gems of thrilling action.

One of the most exciting incidents in the story occurs when the yacht "Sultana" is wrecked on a jagged reef as it leaves the shelter of Hiti Huti. "Octavia Canfied," played by Leatrice Joy, and her baby are put in a lifeboat and lowered away from the side of the yacht, which is being pounded by the heavy sea and listing badly. As members of the crew are lowering the boat, a huge wave breaks over the deck of the yacht, washing everything in its path and forcing the men to relinquish their hold on the ropes. Bow first, the lifeboat drops into the ocean, rights itself, and with Miss Joy and the baby huddled in the bottom of it, is swirled away by the mountainous waves. "Bob Canfield," enacted by Adolphe Menjou in the picture, is forced to make a thrilling leap into the sea and is struck by a falling spar as he plunges into the ocean.

"The Marriage Cheat" will be seen at the Majestic tomorrow, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Today and Yesterday

FEW youngsters to-day ever saw a horse-hair sofa. They wouldn't know what to do with a fire taper, carpet stretcher, or coal oil lamp. They couldn't braid rags into a rug, or wind yarn without tangling. But they know the how and why of typewriters, phonographs, radios, telephones, automobiles; what happens when a push of the button gives light, or a kodak's flash fixes their image on paper.

Their education is as modern as the advertisements they see. They have no more use for the lamp and chimney of yesterday than you for the wick and tallow of the day before.

Advertisements induce such progress. They urge wide use that means improvement. They help you lift the out-of-date into the attic—rid you of the water buckets and soap kettles of slavedom. They bring late improvements within your reach.

Read the advertisements regularly. Keep alert to the new.

Without advertising, you would never know a product's worth until you had bought it

ABANDONED CAR MAY LEAD TO THE BANDIT'S CAPTURE

Chambersburg, Pa., October 15. — The car driven by the "lone bandit" who murdered State Policeman Massey Hailey, after robbing an Abbottstown bank yesterday, was believed to have been found abandoned on the lonely mountain road near Fayetteville today.

A car answering the description of the bandit's machine was found with license tags torn off, burned after a hasty effort had been made to demolish it at a spot north of Fayetteville eight miles from here on the Lincoln highway.

State police picked up the clue of the abandoned car at once and started a thorough search in the mountains in this vicinity believing that the man is in hiding in the locality.

Slavery is supposed to be a thing of the past, but we notice there's still a few two-hundred-pound male brutes being led around by the nose by some little woman only five feet tall and weighing less than a hundred-ten pounds.

LESSON NO. 5.
LIGHTING THE LIVING ROOM

The living room is usually not only the largest room in the house, but it is also the room that is most used. In most homes it serves as the sitting room, the parlor, the library and the music room.

Because we do so many different things in this room, we need lighting that can be changed and varied to suit our purpose. For example, if we wish to entertain our friends by dancing or playing cards, we should be able to flood the whole room with plenty of soft, cheerful light; if we wish to read or sew, we should be able to have the light come over our shoulder from behind a favorite chair; if we wish to play the piano and sing, we should have the music well lighted. At all times the lighting effect should be pleasant and attractive.

To get these effects, we need three different kinds of lighting equipment in the room. First we have a fixture hung from the ceiling with which we can flood the room with light; then we have table lamps and floor lamps which are portable and can be moved about as furniture is rearranged, to give a good reading light. Finally, we may have bracket fixtures on the walls, which give us charming spots of colored light—never too bright and only used to add attractive decoration to our other lighting.

"Bulbs" are known by the amount of electricity it takes to light them. The unit by which they are classified is the "Watt," and bills for electric lighting current are rendered in terms of a "kilowatt-hour," which is one thousand watts for one hour, or one hundred watts for ten hours.

The total watts needed in any room depends upon the size of the room, the kind of fixtures used, the color of the decorations and the lighting effect wanted. In most rooms good lighting may require as little as one or as much as five watts of bulbs for each square foot of floor area in the room.

Here are the things to think about when we want to be sure we have good lighting in the living room. 1. Do we have plenty of light where we need it? 2. Are all the bulbs well shaded so that we do not have any glare? 3. Does the lighting equipment look well in the room, and does it fit both lighted and unlighted with the furniture and woodwork?

THE CEILING FIXTURE

Unless the living room is very large only one fixture is needed on the ceiling. However, if the room is long and narrow—perhaps twice as long as it is wide, two ceiling fixtures should be used.

There are several kinds of fixtures which will provide good lighting in the living room. Some of these are shown in the Home Lighting Primer, on page 28. Some are shown in the next picture.

The bulbs in these fixtures vary in number, but the total watts necessary for good lighting is from 100 to 250 watts.

The shades may be of glass, silk or parchment. They should completely hide the bulb and should be dense enough so that the whole surface of the shade is evenly lighted. A bright spot in the center of the shade means that the shade is not dense enough, and that some glare is present.

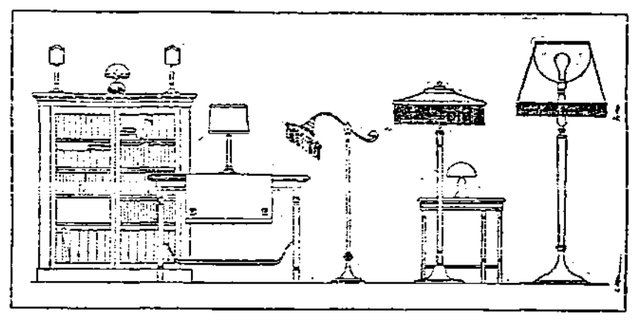
The use of all-frosted bulbs will often do away with shadows of chains which would otherwise be cast on the ceiling.

PORTABLE LAMPS

Portable lamps include floor lamps, table lamps and small pedestal lamps, candlesticks, torcheres, etc., for mantel and bookcase. The best portable lamps have shades which are deep enough to hide the bulbs and dense enough to prevent glare. Some are built to send more light up toward the ceiling as well as down toward the table or floor. These use large bulbs and are designed to provide general lighting by reflection from the ceiling as well as local lighting. Portable lamps from which more is required than merely decoration will need bulbs which have a total of 50 to 100-watts or more; in the interests of economy, those which are merely a decoration do not need more than a 25-watt bulb. Duplex outlets in the baseboard permit the greatest convenience and use of portable lamps for lighting.

WALL BRACKETS

Sometimes people try to provide general lighting for the entire room with wall brackets. Except under unusual circumstances, this leads to one result—the use of larger bulbs whose brightness is annoying.



Bracket fixtures on the walls are merely decorative spots of colored light. Since they are almost always directly in front of the eyes of someone in the room, a light bright enough to furnish useful light soon becomes annoying and causes eyestrain.

It is most important that these be well shaded, so that glare does not prevent their effectiveness as a beautiful decoration. The use of bulbs larger than the 15 or 25-watt size cannot be recommended.
